

CRICKET

Pine Lake visited Red Deer on Monday to play a return match with the home team, a two innings game was agreed upon. Red Deer won the toss and elected to bat first. Brown and Bullock opened up. Brown was bowled by the fourth of the game without any runs being scored. Lavender, the next man up, made a good stand, not leaving until 21 runs were on the boards, of which number he had contributed 15. During this time Stephenson had hit up very well, including one hit for six. The next stand of any importance was that of Buck, doing in with six wickets down, he contributed nine of the twelve runs, including a six, added before the next wicket fell, and six more while in partnership with Neal. This practically finished the scoring for Red Deer, the last wicket falling for a total of 62.

Crossman, bowling for Pine Lake, was at all times difficult to play. He took seven wickets for 13 runs, clear bowling six men. He also had four maiden overs to his credit out of a total of ten. May also did some good work, taking 3 wickets for 17.

Burroughs and Holmes started the innings for Pine Lake, but Holmes was soon on the way back, but followed very short of his mark. The wickets were down and only five runs had been scored. Burroughs and L. Trelley then made a decided success of taking the score up to 47 before they were separated. The fifth wicket brought 20 more runs. The next man past Red Deer's total with only half the side out. Shortly after this Burroughs fell a victim to the bowling of Stephenson, after having played a splendid innings of 33 runs, which included a six and four fours. The next two wickets fell in quick succession with no runs being added. R. Trelley and Underwood then took together and ran the score over 90 before being parted. The former scored 15 before being bowled by Lavender, and the latter 12, including a six and a four. The innings closed with a total of 95.

Neal, bowling for Red Deer, had a fine average for the innings, taking 4 for 9. Bullock, Lavender and Stephenson shared the rest of the wickets between them.

Red Deer's second innings started off in the shape of a disaster. Everything that was offered him, making 14 runs off the first three overs which, with a couple of runs from two from Brown and a couple of byes, brought the score to 18 before the first wicket fell. Morris then went on, and together with Steward, raised the total to 31. Lavender was the next man up, but he was bowled out, being out to a peculiar ball from May. Stephenson followed and began to knock the ball all over the ground, and together with Steward, raised the total to the half century mark before Steward was out to a lovely delivery by Trelley. The lower order of the wickets fell quickly, only a few runs being added for each one. The ninth wicket made a little difference, four overs being necessary, although only two runs were added to the score. The last wicket was run out of five runs before Potts was run out in an attempt to catch an extra run.

Underwood had the best of the bowling in this innings, taking four wickets for 23 runs. May, who had been bowled out in the first innings, was again bowled out in the second, taking 3 for 7, although his average was spoiled by the 17 runs he had made before he was changed. May also, did some good work, taking 2 for 17. Pine Lake made a little more than 100 runs, but they were not enough to win the game, with thirty minutes left to play in. Naturally they went in to celebrate first as they had made 100 runs right and left. This seemed to rattle the Red Deer men and they lost several overs of running, men out through being nervous. Burroughs again showed great form, contributing half of the runs necessary to win the game. Pine Lake finally won the game with seven wickets in hand. Neal and Stephenson shared the bowling in this innings, Neal taking 2 wickets for 12 runs and Stephenson 1 for 22.

THE SAFE HANDLING OF COMMERCIAL LIVE
STOCK

WASTE!

The breeding and feeding of bacon hogs involve a great deal of skill and hard work, and among breeds and types of swine, the bacon hog represents by far the most successful effort yet made to meet market requirements both at home and abroad.

The hog is not a hardy animal, and probably is injured more easily than other cattle or sheep. Despite this fact, he is often the subject of much more abuse than are other classes of meat animals.

Unfortunately as regards hogs, the "rule of thumb" is "big" very pronounced, and the losses resulting much more severe than in other stock.

Every year thousands of hogs arrive on the market in a more or less badly bruised condition, due to causes largely avoidable. In this way, the producer's six months of effort to meet market needs with a high class product is more or less effectively destroyed in the space of a few hours.

Quality determines the relative selling price of live stock. A bruised carcass sells at a discount, and the producer ultimately bears part of the financial loss involved as a result of a depreciation of value in the dressed animal, due to damage in the live condition.

Bruising is rarely the result of intentional abuse, rather of the use of unsatisfactory equipment and unwise handling on the part of those through whose hands the live stock passes on its way from farm to the killing floor.

Scores of damaged pigs pass through to the killing floor every day.
Every ear and bruise means a loss in carcass value, and this loss means a lowering of market price to partly of-set the lowering of the quality of the affected meat.

During recent four-month period, 34,000 hogs were carefully examined, so as to ascertain the extent of bruising and securing. Over 6,600 or 15 percent showed effects of rough usage. In some cases the hog carcasses were so damaged that they were sold at a loss of $5.00 or 15 percent of the value of the live animal.

Since over 3,000,000 hogs are slaughtered at packing plants each year, the above facts indicate that in every two months, $5,000,000 hogs are damaged to the extent of a monetary loss of over $500,000.

The damage loss, based on the basis of the per head value of hogs sold in 1923, is equal to the selling price of 53,000 hogs.

Damage means better prices.
Fewer bruises—a higher quality product.

Horns—weapons of offence and their possession by cattle is responsible for fighting and general disturbance in feed lot and on pasture.

Cattle with horns attack and so injure one another that when marketed they dress out to great disadvantage.
On that account, dehorned cattle sell at better rates than horned cattle, and command more money when bought for feeding.

Horns are a common source of responsibility in cattle and such are responsible for a lack of well-keeping pasture; in this way they become a positive drawback to fattening.

Almost any day a present may find from ten to one hundred or more scared and bruised beef carcasses hanging in slaughter houses because of horns which were not removed.

Compare the value of such a carcass with one undamaged, and the loss is figured because of the cutting out of bruised portions and other carcasses more or less damaged, and the deterioration in quality responsible for a monetary loss of over $1,500,000 annually. This loss, added to the loss previously incurred on pasture.

Striking incident against horns.
If you will but your calves and de-horn your older cattle, this millions on the industry will be removed there by.

Co-operative Effort Required.
Producers' live stock organizations, live stock commission men, stock yards companies, drovers, packing house men, railroads and others are working together in an effort to reduce the heavy losses from bruises.

These bodies have pledged themselves to instruct their employees as to the careful handling of stock, and also to check up their live stock equipment so as to remove to so far as possible, known causes of bruises incurred by live stock, passing through their hands.

Your co-operation is earnestly requested in this work. You will be doing your part, if you will help to provide the following conditions and services:

Proper chutes for loading hogs from pen to wagon.

No hitting and kicking of hogs.

Humane treatment of live stock.

Stoning and clubbing of animals should be outlawed.

No using of the tail rod of the wagon box when loading and unloading hogs.

Co-operation of shippers so as to obtain proper unloading chutes at weigh-scales and railway stock yards.

Protect your commercial cattle by dehorning them, and persuade your neighbours to similarly protect your cattle by dehorning theirs.

Win the horns in the buy. Use Castle Potash on the horns of the calf when it is a few days old.

Never market commercial cattle up-til they have been dehorned.

POOL ESTIMATES ALBERTA
WHEAT CROP AT 70,000,000 BUSHELS

Regina, Aug. 29.—The Inter-provincial wheat pool selling agency estimates the total wheat crop of the three prairie provinces at 70,000,000 bushels, according to A. J. McPhail, president of the selling agency and of the Saskatchewan wheat pool.

"The inter-provincial wheat pool selling agency," he said, "estimates the yield in Saskatchewan at one hundred and fifty million bushels at the outside, with seventy million or seventy-five million bushels in Alberta and thirty-seven to forty million bushels in Manitoba. The estimate of 25,000,000 bushels for the three provinces is the best based on reports received from 50,000 farmers reporting on their own districts."

DRUMHELLER

Drumheller, Alta., August 28.—Two children, Gerald and Clara Pivo, brother and sister, were drowned here in the Red Deer river, about 1.40 p.m. on Wednesday afternoon. They had run out too far into the river, and were caught by the current. The boy was nine years and the girl fourteen years old.

An older brother pulled out another sister. The provincial police have the case in hand and are watching the river, while one of them has gone to Rosedale, down the river, where a net will be spread to catch the bodies if they float down that far.

THE SCHOOL EXAMINATION FAILURES

All over the Province the school examinations at the close of the school year have with few exceptions resulted in an exceedingly heavy percentage of failures, a percentage so very much larger than that in previous years that it calls for serious consideration. It is not suggested that the examination papers were harder than usual. It is out of the question to believe that almost all the teachers of the Province have suddenly lost their ability or their industry, and equally so that almost the whole mass of the school children have had a sudden attack of brain paralysis. There must be some other reason than this.

As far as can be ascertained, the explanation appears to be that the papers have this year been marked on a different method or in a different manner, and the pursuit of this line of enquiry leads to indications of an exceedingly disquieting character. Apparently the Teachers' Alliance this year sent a deputation to the Minister of Education to ask that the marks awarded to the school children's papers by those who read and mark the papers should not be subject to revision by the Department. Mr. Baker, the Minister for Education, informed the deputation that its request would be given effect to.

So far, that is good, but then the question naturally arises: why should such a deputation have been necessary and what possible explanation or defence can there be for the previous system, which was implicitly admitted by the Minister's reply? On what conceivable theory of knowledge or education did the Department revise or in any way interfere with the marks awarded by those who in the first instance read and marked the papers? The latter are all picked men and women from the teaching and inspecting staffs, thoroughly familiar with the subjects of examination and accustomed to dealing with papers. Is it by any stretch of the imagination possible to believe that departmental officials, presumably sufficiently occupied with administrative details, are qualified to revise the work of this marking staff on educational grounds? If not, what is the basis of revision?

The question might seem almost every-day if it were not for a phrase in the Minister's reply: "On what conceivable theory of knowledge or education did the Department revise or in any way interfere with the marks awarded by those who in the first instance read and marked the papers?"

her examination and fails for no other reason whatever than lack of knowledge. Mr. Jones or Mr. Vere de Vere, sometimes, perhaps even more than sometimes, spurred on by Mrs. Jones or Mrs. Vere de Vere, at once enters an indignant protest with the principal of the school or the local board. He impugns the fairness of the examination papers, the ability of the teacher, the air in the schoolroom, anything and everything but the inherent lack of brains and industry of little Johnny or Susan. He demands promotion for this injured infant and he quite commonly intimates that if it is not granted irrespective of examination results, he will take all measures, personal, social or political, to make, teacher, principal or board regret their act of oppressive injustice. Amazing and scandalous though it may seem and undoubtedly is, his protest not too seldom succeeds. The child is promoted and from that moment the structure of education which is being built up in that child's mind and character is flawed at the base, is fatally defective, is founded on all intents and purposes on a lie.

What is done in the case of local schools and local boards can be seen, apparently has been done in the case of the Department of Education itself. That Mr. Baker, the present minister, wishes to put an end to the scandal, and evidently has taken steps accordingly, is entirely to his credit. If he stands to his guns, supports his boards and his teachers in doing their duty, and roots out this cancer from our educational system, he will have done more for education in Alberta than could be achieved by any pretensions to the kind of wide-ranging studies made farcical by such practices as have been referred to above.

Let no one mistake the vital importance of this matter. The tampering with examination results, the demand for and the grant of promotion without qualification or merit is in exactly the same category as the "get rich quick" schemes of evil notoriety. It represents the attempt to gain by any means that to which one is not entitled either by law or by justice. It introduces a fraud and a sham into a child's life at the very threshold and outset of that life. It is radically bad. It has neither shred nor shadow of justification.

That is the significance of the startling series of examination failures in the schools. Let every citizen ponder its meaning.

COAL AND COMMON SENSE

The coal strike is still unsettled after weeks of idleness varied by vain negotiations. In the first instance this strike may be deemed a matter for settlement between miners and mine owners only. The miners have a right to refuse to work unless they receive the wages they ask for. The mine owners have a right to refuse to pay wages which they think too high. There are, however, other considerations which must not be lost sight of. The miners not only refuse to work unless they get the wages they ask for. They also claim the right to prevent anyone else working for less wages, and this right they try to enforce by all the usual methods of a destructive change towards Conservatism in the Prairie Provinces. A free trade policy is of such obvious advantage from the immediate financial standpoint to the Western farmers that any other policy is unlikely to command their support. On the other hand, the imperial policy of the present Canadian Government is so mischievous, and in its whole tendency so detrimental to the interests of Canada as a nation within the British Empire that Conservatives ought not to stand by and passively acquiesce in the domination of the West by the Liberals. What seems to be needed is a conference between Eastern and Western leaders of business under Conservative auspices to see just how far a compromise can be adjusted between the interests of East and West, which will allow Conservatives to claim the support of the West without carrying the handicap of a fiscal policy calculated to hamper the individual Western farmer.

It might quite well be that the Conservatives, being framed a tariff policy of protection against the United States but free trade within the Empire which would meet the needs of both Eastern and Western Canada. The present tariff policy of the States presents a great opportunity for the introduction of such a policy for Canada. The next step would be to approach the British Conservatives and to try to adjust with them a joint policy of education and enlightenment of public opinion both in Canada and Great Britain with a view to carrying the policy into effect.

Before any such policy is announced Conservatives must satisfy themselves that it is in its main outlines as well as in its details of real benefit to the country as a whole. A necessary party advantage gained by speciously false presentation of a superficially attractive policy is not worth having and Conservatives must decisively reject anything of the sort. It is one of the traditional merits of the Conservative Party that in a clash between the interests of country as against party, those of country are put first. Conservatives should take careful thought to prevent that honorable tradition becoming merely an empty pretence. Further, the tariff policy should be essentially elastic and free from rigidity, for if there is one thing certain in regard to the always perplexing and doubtful question of tariffs, it is the impossibility of laying down hard and fast lines on the subject. Rigid economic dogmas are just as harmful as rigid religious ones.

Moreover, Conservatives should not hesitate to recognize openly real merit in the policies and personalities of other parties. Where there is a sound measure proposed by either Liberals or Farmers, it should receive the most generous recognition from Conservatives, and where there is a really good representative in public life holding Liberal or Farmer principles, Conservatives may well hesitate to oppose him. But they should try to do the greatest measure of agreement between their views and his, so that by mutual adjustment and concession public life may retain the services of the best men irrespective of party considerations. Our own district has two in succession two men of this type in Dr. Clark and Mr. Speakman, the present member, men with whom Conservatives may certainly disagree but who are both of a high type and quite capable of rising above narrow considerations of party policy in the interests of the country as a whole. Party politics may be almost inevitable, but Conservatives will never lose by treating them as entirely subordinate to public welfare.

Now, if it is true as suggested above that miners could take less wages and mine owners a lower price for their coal without either suffering a real hardship, is it a foolish suggestion to make that they should both agree to accept such a reduction in respect of coal produced for the Ontario market, while the railways (and particularly the Canadian National Railway) agreed to haul such coal at the lowest possible rate which would pay expenses? If it is not possible to get the coal on to the Eastern market at a low enough rate to compete with the American coal? If so, would it not be better for the miners to work full time all the year round at full wages for part of the time and lower, but still adequate, wages for the rest of the time, than to work two days a week as at present? Would it not pay the owners better to have their mines going at full blast all the time, even if some of the output gave them reduced profits? Is it not possible that the railways might profit so much by the generally increased prosperity of the West through a flourishing and steady coal trade, that they would recoup themselves for carrying coal to the West at the low rates? Is the inability to get Western coal on to the Eastern market a real inability or is it due mainly to the inability of the miners and mine owners to co-operate intelligently for their mutual good.

We must confess frankly to our ignorance of the actual facts of this problem, but we should be really interested to have these questions answered by someone with full knowledge and an open mind towards all aspects of the problem.

CONSERVATIVE POLICY IN THE WEST

Mr. MacKenzie King has announced that there is to be no federal election this fall. He did not say anything about this winter, but the general impression made by his speech is that there will be no election for some time yet. The reason given in the speech was that the Government is doing splendidly, that the people of Canada are contented and prosperous and that therefore no election is needed or desirable. As an argument in a party speech—and Mr. MacKenzie King, unfortunately, never rises above party speech—this is quite a legitimate one. It is calculated to make keep party Conservatives dance with rage, and presumably that is what the Liberal Premier intended that it should do. There is no great reason for Conservatives to regret the postponement of an election. The delay is likely to tell in their favor rather than against them.

In the meantime it might be well for Conservatives to take stock of their position in the West and see how the situation stands. There does not appear to be any clear indication of a decisive change towards Conservatism in the Prairie Provinces. A free trade policy is of such obvious advantage from the immediate financiary standpoint to the Western farmers that any other policy is unlikely to command their support. On the other hand, the imperial policy of the present Canadian Government is so mischievous, and in its whole tendency so detrimental to the interests of Canada as a nation within the British Empire that Conservatives ought not to stand by and passively acquiesce in the domination of the West by the Liberals. What seems to be needed is a conference between Eastern and Western leaders of business under Conservative auspices to see just how far a compromise can be adjusted between the interests of East and West, which will allow Conservatives to claim the support of the West without carrying the handicap of a fiscal policy calculated to hamper the individual Western farmer.

It might quite well be that the Conservatives, being framed a tariff policy of protection against the United States but free trade within the Empire which would meet the needs of both Eastern and Western Canada. The present tariff policy of the States presents a great opportunity for the introduction of such a policy for Canada. The next step would be to approach the British Conservatives and to try to adjust with them a joint policy of education and enlightenment of public opinion both in Canada and Great Britain with a view to carrying the policy into effect.

MR. OLIVER'S ELECTION AT NELSON

Mr. Oliver, Premier of British Columbia, has been elected to the Legislature for the Nelson constituency. The election is not a credit to him, or to the Liberal party or to the people of the constituency. In a speech made directly before the election Mr. Oliver after first disclaiming that he was making any promises undertook to promote the construction by the Government of a bridge across the Lake at Nelson, the establishment there of a provincial normal training college, and of a large real construction scheme for the district. It is not suggested that these are schemes of outstanding utility for the whole province. They are of benefit mainly if not wholly to the people of Nelson, and they were held out to the electors simply and solely as a wholesale bribe to vote for Mr. Oliver. The bribe succeeded. In face of the united opposition of all the other parties, Mr. Oliver had a majority of over 300. Just as long as this method of mass bribery can be practised successfully and openly in this manner, so long will honest and efficient government in Canada be impossible and the people themselves will be responsible for that fact.

EDITORIAL NOTES

How the citizens of Montreal must have gnashed their teeth when Henry Ford said that Montreal was only a village. And what an ass Henry must be to make such a statement.

[We are sorry to say that the so-called Stampede was very much of a frost. We have to apologize to our readers for statements made in the advertising of the Stampede in our columns that time has shown to have been untrue.]

One of our subscribers stopped The News last week because we inserted liquor advertising in our paper, that is, advertising for the Calgary, Lethbridge and Silver Star breweries. We are sorry, but we have to inform that gentleman that we are still going to carry such advertising. It is approved of by the Liquor Commission. We might also add that we are glad to do printing for the same brokers, but regret that the Advocate has not allowed us to get all the job work. Where it is not exposed to public view, their conscience is more hardened than where it is.

The baseball on Monday was bad; sixteen errors are too much in one game. The umpiring was not too good. But what was worst of all was the language used freely by some of the spectators and players. If that sort of thing is permitted baseball will automatically become a dud.

The committee on the rink is to meet tomorrow night. They should throw out the whole problem, and if anything is to be done, start it at once. Otherwise there will be no covered rink this winter.

C.P.R. CROP REPORT

Very Favourable Weather and Promising Outlook

Special Dispatch to The News. Winnipeg, Aug. 30th.—During the past week the weather throughout the Prairie Provinces has been clear and moderately warm, with local rains in scattered districts of each province according to the weekly crop report issued daily by the Canadian Pacific Railway Agricultural Department. The rain has not been sufficiently heavy, however, to retard harvesting operations where work has already commenced. Ideal ripening conditions now exist, and wheat harvesting which has already begun on a limited scale is fast becoming general. Rye cutting is completed and considerable threshing is done, and the out-turn of the whole are better than was expected, the report states. Labor supply in the West is equal to present demands, being augmented by Eastern harvesters and farmers from dried-out areas as work advances.

Livestock receipts on local markets continue heavy and prices are good. Crops in Manitoba are favorable, the report states, and all but very late cereals are reaching maturity without danger from rust. Rye promises well above the average.

Considerable wheat cutting has already been accomplished, and this operation is practically general throughout the Province, though temporarily retarded in some sections by rain towards the weekend.

In the Province of Saskatchewan the appearance of grain fields has greatly changed during the past week, the weather being fairly warm and dry and entirely favorable for ripening of crops. Wheat cutting has commenced in a number of districts principally in South, but is now becoming general throughout the Province. Wheat stem sawfly has caused minor damage in scattered areas and some loss is attributed to rust infection, but all crops now generally beyond further injury from latter cause. Ripening of grains has advanced rapidly in Alberta, and wheat cutting which has begun in a number of places will be fairly general in the coming week if present weather continues. On the Edmonton, Dunvegan and B. C. Railway harvesting is delayed at all points by weather. Green feed and pastures are greatly improved. Cutting in general will be resumed this week if present weather continues.

In British Columbia the weather has been very warm during the past week and fruit trees are coming on well. Prunes, plums, peaches and pears and apples are moving in good volume. Haying is over in the Province and the crop, generally speaking, is much better than anticipated.

Terrific loss of life was reported in the big battles raging along the French and Belgian frontiers. The Russians were advancing rapidly with a huge army. Public school reopened with an enrollment for the first day of 600. Red Deer footballers won at the Lacombe Fair. Red Deer became the centre of a new Judicial District. John A. CRICKET AT PINE LAKE

The Red Deer cricketers paid a visit to Pine Lake on Wednesday. Some trouble was experienced in gathering a team and securing transportation for them. The secretary is greatly indebted to those who so generously helped out at the last minute, when it appeared that the game would have to be called off.

The Pine Lake people had prepared a nice pitch for the match and had evidently been to some trouble preparing for the revival of cricket in their midst. This district has had all teams and, after seeing the material which they produced for our benefit on Wednesday, there is no doubt there is the basis there for other good teams. Most of their men had no practice whatever; had they had a few practices before the match, there would have been a different story to relate.

Pine Lake won the toss and elected to bat first. Burroughs and Holmes were the first two men to bat. Holmes took the first ball and knocked it into the bushes for four runs. The next two balls brought in two more runs and it began to look as if Red Deer was in for a real tussle. Fortunately for them, however, Holmes knocked up a catch and the first wicket fell for the small sum of six. Then Burroughs and Tetley ran the score up to 24 before Tetley was bowled by Bullock. The next three wickets fell in quick succession with only four more runs added to the total. Cobbold and Crossman then added ten before the latter fell a victim to Lavender. Eight more were added again for the eighth wicket. Only four more runs after this and the innings came to a close with a total of 59. Cobbold carried out his bat for a nicely played 14. Burroughs and he being the only ones on their side to reach double figures.

Lavender, as usual, carried off the bowling honors, taking seven wickets for 17 runs. Bullock also did good work, taking 3 for 26.

Brown and Bullock started the innings for Red Deer. Both men played carefully, taking some time to make the fifteen runs which were chalked up when they were separated. A short time later, Lavender was given out. Then Brown and Kent added a few before Percy met his fate at the hands of Burroughs. Scoring began to be a little brisker, but the wickets were also falling and five men were out with only 33 runs scored. It was anyone's game yet. Then Morris came to the rescue and thirteen runs were added before the sixth wicket fell. Red Deer began to feel a little easier. Then the next wicket went with only one more run. The eighth fell and still we needed more. Then Goodey went in and made a single. The game was won. The innings, however, was played out and eight more runs were scored before Morris was bowled by Crossman after making a total of 17, the high score for the day.

Crossman, bowling for Pine Lake, had the remarkable average of 4 wickets for 7 runs in just over four overs. After the game the players and spectators, of whom there were a considerable number, adjourned to Mr. Crossman's for lunch. The Pine Lake people certainly gave us a royal time and are a bunch of real sportsmen. Everyone agreed that it was the best afternoon cricket Red Deer has had this year, and that is saying a lot. Red Deer have had some really good games this year.

During lunch the Pine Lakers were invited to come to Red Deer for a game on Monday. After some discussion, they decided that they might be able to bring a team; in fact they were sure they could, and so it was arranged. The game is called for eleven o'clock on Monday morning and Red Deer is looking forward to a real struggle with much enthusiasm.

EXAMINER'S REVIEW OF PROVINCIAL MARKETS

Cattle—Beef—Real quality steers steady at Calgary, but females lower; choice heavy steers $3 to $5.50, and a top last weekend of $6; choice light $2.50 to $3.25; good $2.25 to $4.75; medium $2 to $3.50; choice cows $2.25 to $3; good $2.50 to $3.75; medium $2 to $2.50; choice heifers $1.50 to $2; good $1.25 to $2.75; medium $1 to $1.50. Calves better and choice veal $4 to $4.25; common $2 to $3.75. Stockers, Feeders—Better demand and better class of steers taken at $2.25 to $4.25; stockers $2.25 to $2.50; Stocker heifers $2 to $2.75; stocker cows $1.25 to $2.50.

Hogs—Edmonton market was not as good on beef this week, with a price of $4.50 to $4.75 on choice heavy and choice light $4.35 to $4.75; good $4 to $4.25; medium $3.25 to $3.75; common down to $2.50. Choice heifers $3.50 to $3.75; good $3 to $3.50. Choice cows $2.75 to $3; good $2.50 to $2.75; medium $2 to $2.50; common $1.50 to $2.25. Choice hogs $1.75 to $2.25; good $1.50 to $1.75; down to common at $1 and $1.50. Calves, choice veal, $3.75 to $4; common $2 to $3. Feeders, Stockers—Active market on good ones, choice feeders up to $4; plain down to $2.50; stocker steers $2 to $3.50. Stock heifers $1.75 to $2.50; stock cows $1.25 to $2.

Sheep—Calgary prices worked down from $9.60 at the week-end to sales Wednesday at $9.25, thick smooths, off cuts; bacon 10 p.c. premium; today's offerings at $9.25.

Edmonton prices down during the week from previous high points and Wednesday's sales at $9.25 thick smooth, off cuts; bacon 10 p.c. premium; today's offerings at $9.25.

Calgary receipts light and lambs $10 to $11.50; yearlings up to $10 and fat ewes from $7.50 down.

Edmonton sheep market shows no material change, lambs $10.50 to $12; yearlings $8 to $9; fat ewes $4 to $6.50; inquiries for breeding ewes.

Grain—Splendid weather for the ripening harvest experienced over most of the west and Alberta crops ripening in good shape. Harvesting reported in many districts and from present indications there will be a great deal cut this week. General improvement in all crops, and one of the latest unofficial estimates gives the Alberta average, 18 bushels; this seems high, but there are a lot of dry crops; some poor, and some lost. Prices have been declining all week and look as though they would work to a higher level than his during the low points of the week.

Butter—Butterfat—Cheese—Creamery Butter—Prints and cartons advanced 2c during the week, now 36c and 37c for No. 1, and 35c and 36c for No. 2; car lots 32c to 33c, and market prospects good. Butterfat—Alberta prices advanced to 31c at central, and 30c at country creameries basis specials, and other grades up also; Southern Saskatchewan on basis of 31c, and Northern Saskatchewan pays 32c, but prices likely to be on an even basis soon. Manitoba prices very and Winnipeg paying up to 33c. Cheese—Alberta make is large and market not any better here, and weaker in east, where heavy stocks are still held.

Eggs—Poultry—Eggs—Calgary trade prices unchanged at 25c for extras; demand is fair and receipts light; prospects of price very encouraging. Edmonton prices up to 25c, 23c, 15c and 10c on the four grades. Poultry—Chicken prices dropped to 14c due to leaving receipts and poor condition of most of the birds; unchanged at 9c to 10c according to weight; ducks and geese 10c; turkeys not wanted. No demand for dressed poultry except at special prices.

Potatoes—New crop selling in small lots at Calgary, 17c per cwt. delivered.

Hay—The weather for buying, and a lot of good hay put up, no market yet, but prospects seem fair.

Hides—Trading in hides is not as active as it was a week ago, but there is no decline, though the market is acting tired. The trade is looking for present prices to hold.

Furs—Montreal fur auction is on next week, and if there is as good buying as there was at Winnipeg, prospects for the fall trade will be quite encouraging.

The Miners' Strike in District 18 has lasted so long and the demand during the summer has been so poor that it will take the entire capacity of every domestic mine in Alberta from now on—including mines now on strike and no settlement even arranged—to take care of the normal demand for the rest of this year. This is not "scare stuff" but is based on figures obtained from the Mines Branch as to total output and average yearly requirements.

Watch Repairing

If your watch is a good one—or valuable one—or valuable for some sentimental association—you should be sure that the man who repairs it is a skilled workman.

A watch that's worth repairing at all is worth repairing well. We wouldn't do it otherwise—even if you were "not particular".

And it can be repaired here if it is repairable at all.
